Maple Run Art Tour

Date and Time: Saturday, April 6 10:00 am - 5:00 pm

Address: 239 Deer Run Road, Pakenham

Like a breath of fresh air, the Pakenham Maple Run Tour on April 6 and 7 will refresh and energize after a long winter. A tour like no other, Maple Run is a unique blend of art, fine craft, interesting and heritage buildings and spectacular spring scenery. Art and fine craft are the roots of the tour, but the Maple Run venues are a tour all by themselves for their history, their architecture, or their function. To top all that off, it takes place in maple syrup country, so a trip to a sugar bush can be part of your day out of the house. Following the entire route of the Maple Run tour is easily done in a day, since the tour stops are open from 10am to 5pm. A car will be a requirement since the route covers about 40km. Maple Run, a self-guided free tour, truly offers something for everyone in the family.

A select group of artists and artisans from the local area, as well as the Ottawa Valley and across Ontario, will present a wide array of artistic expressions. So wide that our advice is to take a deep breath before you read this list aloud! There will be ceramics, wood carving and turning, jewelry, baking, leatherworking, landscape painting, watercolours, photography, weaving, felting, handmade soaps, miniature quilts, mosaics, fabric sculpture, paper art, children's literature, basketry, honey products, clothing design, natural skin care, animal portraiture, textile designs, art glass, and artistic blacksmithing.

Stop 1 is Farmgate Cider with its beautiful reconstructed heritage post and beam cider barn. Located just off the 417 at the Kinburn Side Road, Farmgate hosts the tour's largest group of artists. Here you will find basketmaking, pottery, animal portraiture, natural skin care, watercolours, woodturning, garden sculptures, and artistic blacksmithing. Cider tasting (cold or hot) and sales are a must!

Back in the pretty heritage village of Pakenham with its unique stone bridge, a cluster of 4 tour stops will welcome you. Visit the charming Keepers Coffee Bar, located in the sunshine yellow house and offering eclectic upcycled tea cozies and hats from a local artisan, as well as coffee, pastries and snacks, vintage items and plants. Paddy Mann's clothing design studio, in a heritage stone building, will give you a whole new look, with custom designed clothing from this award-winning designer. The sunny and welcoming Pakenham branch of the Mississippi Mills Library hosts an Ottawa Valley landscape painter, a paper artist, and a children's book author. St. Andrew's United Church, built of local stone in 1897 and featuring a rare sanctuary design, offers a perfect spot for a light lunch, as well as 6 artists presenting miniature quilts, weaving and felting, handmade soaps, artglass jewelry, and fibre art.

Heading west from Pakenham, travel to the base of the Pakenham "Mountain" and visit a ceramic artist and a vibrant tie-dye artist at Cartwright Springs Brewery. While there, you can of course enjoy a tasting – the brewery is known for offering fine craft brews and even bottled maple sap! - as well as pulled pork on a bun and wood-fired pizza

The warm and entertaining Chris van Zanten studio offers you demonstrations of the fiery art of glass making – an experience of colour and drama.

Visit our 8th tour stop, the heritage Cedar Hill Schoolhouse, while on the way to Almonte or Fulton's Sugar Bush. Step back in time and visit this one-room schoolhouse which still retains its school maps, blackboards, and bell. The Schoolhouse will host 6 artists presenting leatherworking, hand painted pottery, gemstone jewelry, baking, honey products and wildlife photography.

"Net-Work" Exhibit Opening

Date and Time: Saturday, April 27 1:00 pm - 4:00 pm

Address: 3 Rosamond Street East, Almonte

Join the Mississippi Valley Textile Museum (MVTM) on Saturday, April 27 from 1pm - 4pm for the exhibit opening of "Net-Work" by Adrian Baker. The exhibit will be on display from April 27 to July 6. "Net-Work" is a socially-engaged fibre art installation that has drawn both national and international interest and participation. This ongoing collaborative fiber art installation was one of the ten finalists for the 2021 Berlin Social Arts Award. Embodying the vast underground webs of mycorrhizal fungi and roots that enable symbiotic tree interaction, this collaborative project functions as a collective expression of care for our non-human kin.

Baker invited the public to participate in this installation by crafting long, fibrous "strands", using repurposed yarn or textiles as their medium. Over 300 strands have been created by a diverse range of participants including artists, fibre guild members, and amateur crafters. The strands are woven, knitted, crocheted, braided, and stitched using handspun and dyed wool, synthetic yarns, fabric remnants, reeds, fleece, jute, burlap, plastic, wire, shells, and beads, and reach up to 4.5 metres long. Hundreds of these colourful, interwoven strands will encompass the entire MVTM gallery, letting visitors walk among them and suggesting the experience of moving through a huge underground network of roots and fungi.

Baker considers "Net-Work" to be a creative form of environmental activism, and the MVTM is looking forward to bringing it to the Museum and encouraging conversation about the relationships and communication within nature, and between ourselves in this modern world.

Folkus Concert Series - The Moth Project

Date and Time: Saturday, April 27 7:00 pm

Address: 14 Bridge Street, Almonte

The Moth Project is an original multimedia production from GRAMMY nominated and Ottawa-born musician Peter Kieseewalter (East Village Opera Company, Jane Siberry). Kieseewalter is joined by violinist Whitney La Grange in front of a large video screen for a set of their own songs and covers, including works by Joni Mitchell, KISS, and J.S. Bach. Weaving music, pictures, and words seamlessly together, the Moth Project explores the mythology behind them and our modern ideas about them. Gorgeous imagery enhances and underscores the storytelling.

Interpretive Naturalist Tobi Kieseewalter, of Murphy's Point Provincial Park, will open the evening with a brief talk on the beauty and diversity of moths. His talk features mostly his own photographs of live moths from eastern Ontario, revealing the beauty hiding in our own backyards.
